SHRINE CLUB TAKES NEW QUARTERS

Formal Gathering Place Will Be Fitted Up in Nesselroad Building

THE future informal gathering place for Shriners will be the Nesselroad building on West Broadway, where the Shrine club has leased two suites of rooms for club headquarters until the new Masonic temple is completed and ready for occupancy. This announcement was made last night at the Shrine club meeting in the parlor studio.

For a long time the Shrine Club members have felt the need of clubrooms, where members might gather informally and where visiting Shriners might be entertained. With this in view the club will give a musical comedy benefit, "Smile Again," by which funds will be raised for securing clubrooms.

Plans are now under way, announced D. Ripley Jackson, club president, for furnishing the rooms, which will be ready for use as soon as possible.

Aid Queen Candidate

There are four rooms in the suite and they are to be arranged for lounging, cards and club meetings. Large social gatherings of the club and guests will be in larger quarters.

Another present interest of the Shrine Club and friends is supporting Miss Marie Oliver for the queen of the coming industrial exposition. At the meeting last night over 2000 tickets were sold and the club is urging all members and friends to support Miss Oliver.

After the business hour the club and ladies were entertained with a complimentary concert by the Shrine Club orchestra. Two entertainment features were presented by H. C. Leavitt and the Shrine orchestra furnished music for the dancing.

Late in the evening refreshments were served to the 150 members and guests present.

RECORD FISHING BY KENT PARTY

Rainbow Weighing Just 2¾ Pounds Sets Mark So Far This Season

The record catch of the trout season, to date, is 21¼ inch Rainbow weighing 2¾ pounds, landed in the mountains of Santa Barbara by Roy L. Kent, Wednesday morning, May 2, from the crystal waters of the Santa Ynez river, high up in the mountains of Santa Barbara county, seventy-five miles north of Santa Barbara.

The big fish was caught with a light tackle and a No. 8 hook, baited with salmon roe, and took nearly an hour to land. Mr. Kent reports. He plans to have the master of the piscal tribe stuffed and mounted, as a permanent record of a most pleasurable trip and a wondrous catch.

The party of which Roy L. Kent was a member comprised in addition Mr. Kent's father, Charles Kent, and A. R. Eastman and Davis, Young Mr. Kent and Eastman were the guests of the other men.

The party left Glendale Monday morning, April 30, at 4 o'clock, and as dawn was breaking, and arrived at their camp in the Santa Barbara mountains at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a run of 150 miles.

The camp, states Mr. Kent, was located in an ideal spot, amid a grove of live oaks, the ground strewn with a profusion of wild flowers and the Santa Ynez river flowing just 100 yards away.

Complete Equipment

A feature that made the outing particularly pleasurably one was the completeness of the camping equipment carried by Charles W. Kent, and the extent of his experience with outdoor life, making both the way that for many campers is rough indeed.

Tuesday morning, May 1, the party celebrated the opening of season by landing the catch-limit for the day in less than an hour. These they prepared and ate with great relish. And on Wednesday morning they repeated the experience. It was on this occasion that Mr. Kent caught his 21¼ inch Rainbow.

The party broke camp at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, arriving back in Glendale at 9 o'clock that night.

The only feature marring the perfect enjoyment of the trip, Mr. Kent reports, was the explosion of the gasoline cook stove, but as no one was hurt and the only real damage was the burning in of the commissary tent, this unsettable detail is minimized in the general pleasurable memories of the outing.

Ex-Congressman Herrick Faces Girl's Charges

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Ex-Congressman Manuel Herrick, of Oklahoma, the salf-styled "aerial daredevil" of congress, was in the toils of the law today.

Herrick was arrested on a downtown street corner last night charged with disorderly conduct and annoying Miss Ethel M. Crane. When searched at headquarters, the ex-congressman had a list containing the names and addresses of nearly fifty capital girls. Notations were pencilled after their names. A high powered bottle of perfume was also revealed by the search of his person.

The arrest was made with considerable difficulty and the "wagon" was called into service to get the ex-congressman to the station house. He asserted he was a private detective and was investigating "white slave" cases. He also claimed congressional immunity from arrest. He was released on $5 collateral for appearance in police court today.

Mrs. Susanna Lankershim Van Nuys, in State Since '58, Taken by Death

FLYERS REACH GOAL IN TRIP ACROSS CONTINENT

Daring Army Aviators Make Landing After Non-Stop Flight From Long Island to Rockwell Field, San Diego

BULLETIN

ROCKWELL FIELD, San Diego., May 3.—Spanning the entire North American continent without a single stop, the giant army transport monoplane T-2 landed here this afternoon. The flight will go down in history as one of the greatest ever made, taking rank with the epochal trans-Atlantic flights of Captain Alcock and the American navy N. C. planes four years ago. The monoplane broke its own world's long distance flight record by several hundred miles, the former record having been hung up on an attempted eastward coast to coast non-stop flight last winter which fell a few hundred miles short of the Atlantic goal. The distance covered during the present flight was approximately 2600 miles. Lieutenant John A. Macready brought the monoplane to earth at 12:25 p. m., making the elapsed flight time from the take-off on the Atlantic coast 26 hours, 49 minutes, at an average speed of about 120 miles an hour.

SAN DIEGO, May 3.—With weather conditions throughout the southwest ideal for flying, army Lieutenants Macready and Kelly are expected to arrive at Rockwell field this afternoon. The last report received here was that the two flyers had passed Wickenburg, Arizona, a distance of about 300 miles. At that time the aviators were flying with the wind in the last lap of their journey across the southwestern desert.

After crossing the Imperial Valley the average of 100 miles an hour is expected to be reduced somewhat because of coast winds which will meet the giant plane head-on.

Despite the rapid race against time, Lieutenants Macready and Kelly are making westward, flying officers here this morning still were of the belief the men would not reach Rockwell field until approximately 5 o'clock this afternoon. Major Henry H. Arnold, commander of the aviation post, tested out a big plane this morning and started on a flight. It was thought that he would fly in the general direction of New Mexico to meet the flyers.

Ready for Greetings

A big delegation of San Diego people will meet Macready and Kelly, the Kiwanis club heading the committee.

Precautions were taken today to guard against the trans-continental flight being ruled out as "unofficial."

When the intrepid flyers land at Rockwell field on North Island late today, the sealed barographs on their giant plane will be opened by Captain Lowell H. Smith. Captain Smith will act as the official representative of the United States army.

Prepare Landing

The National Aeronautic association of the United States will have present at the same time H. E. Morin, a San Diego expert on aeronautics. He will read the barographs for the association, and immediately telegraph his report to Washington. Morin is to act here in the same capacity as Major Frank Lahm acted at Mitchell field, New York, when the two flyers hopped off Wednesday for what they hoped would be the first successful cross-country aerial journey.

At Rockwell field final preparations were made today to receive the flyers. The broad sweep of rolling land on the seaward side of North Island has been cleared for the descent. A wide pathway having the appearance of a road of triple width has been spaded off for many yards to allow an easy descent when the machine comes to earth.

Mrs. Dillingham is understood to be certain she replaced it in her jewel case the night of April 30. She motored down the peninsula from the St. Francis hotel and then back to the hotel. The hotel management, while declining to discuss the matter, is assisting in the search and today offered a reward for the return of the necklace.

Bail Bonds Forged In Case, Is Charged

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Grand jurors today investigated the alleged forging of bail bonds furnished in the case of the ten asserted bunko men arrested for conspiracy to commit grand larceny with the "race track" game in an effort to secure some $17,000 from J. C. Larsen, a middle west farmer.

Judge John W. Shenk, in whose court the case is on trial, ordered no more of the prisoners released on bond pending the outcome of the investigation.

It is charged the T. H. Little, one of the signers of the $10,000 bond in question, was not in the state at the time of the signing. An inquiry is being made into the signature of Q. A. HEALTH-AGAIN TALKS

By Dr. Otey

"DO YOU TREAT ONLY CHRONIC CASES?"

Because Osteopathy's most startling achievements have been gained by the cure of patients that had exhausted every other known means without relief, some people acquired the idea that it is limited to such cases. This is not the case. The principles of Osteopathy apply to all disorders of the body—acute as well as chronic.

The public is slow to trust its acute cases to any new system. But a brick will absorb water, and the people are slowly but surely arriving at the sensible conclusion that if the Osteopath is capable of taking a diseased, rundown human body that has been making a long, losing fight with disease, and has been the receptacle of all kinds of patent nostrums, and is soaked full of all the poisons in the drug stores, and so release the nerve force and remove all those conditions that have been impeding the flow of the blood and nerve force, and make it possible for that body to throw off the disease and to eliminate through the waste channels the poisons and other deleterious materials that have been accumulating and to again have every organ and member assert itself as master of its own function with health and life renewed, I say it is a sensible conclusion that the Osteopath could have successfully handled that case in the acute stage.

LA CRESCENTA

STUDENTS STAGE MAY DAY DANCES

Court of School Affords Splendid Scene for Children's Revels

La Crescenta school court was the scene of a brilliant May day celebration, all of the grades taking part.

The court was beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers, streamers of ivy and honeysuckle hung from the four corners of the court to the top of the May pole. Japanese paper lanterns were hung at intervals on the streamers. The May queen's throne was flower-bedecked, and baskets of flowers also decorated the top of the piano.

The program was well arranged and a most interesting one it was, at least to the parents and visitors, who were seated in the three corridors around the court. Heralds announced "Her Majesty the Queen." The crowning of the May queen, Florence Peterson, was the first number. She was preceded to her throne by Prince Charming (Paul McAsker) and four charming flower girls who scattered rose petals in her path. After being crowned by Prince Charming she presided over the ceremonies on her flower-decked throne. Her train was net, interwoven with pink carnations. She also carried a sceptre. Mrs. Fritt played the violin, Mrs. Angier accompanying her, in a selection from Tannhauser. The first grade, Mrs. Greenberg's room, sang "Mrs. Pussy's Dinner," half the children being pussy cats with lovely long tails, the other half being the birds, who happily escaped from the clutches of pussy's claws. This grade also sang "My Garden Bed," with a rainbow fairy's dance.

Maypole Dance

The third and fourth, Miss Rhea's children, danced the Maypole, looking very fairy-like in the delicate shades of pink and blue, the streamers on the pole matching their frocks. A song accompanied the dance, which was done exceptionally well.

The fifth and sixth grades, Mrs. Austen's. The girls danced a Japanese dance, attired in the kimonos of this race, with hair ornaments of fans and chrysanthemums. The boys of these grades did a very realistic Indian warriors' spring dance. Needless to say, the boys enjoyed the war whoops more than the music of the tom-toms or the dance itself.

The girls of the seventh and eighth grades, Mrs. Austin, principal, gave a most charming flower garland dance, beautifully done, and the Boy Scouts of these grades gave an exhibition of their drill, camp pitching, fire making, first aid and breaking camp.

The first aid work deserves particular mention as it was done quickly and well. Paul McAsker acted as scoutmaster.

This concluded the program, after which the Parent-Teacher Association and room mothers entertained all mothers and guests at tea. Home-made cakes were also served and the children received orangeade and wafers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen of East Piedmont avenue were agreeably surprised on Sunday at their new home. Over forty friends gathered there, bringing their own picnic lunch, the occasion being the thirteenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hansen's wedding. The party drove to Sunland for a picnic, returning late in the afternoon, tired but happy. Guests were from outside points, Long Beach, Bell, Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Credit Association To Consider Report

The committee that was appointed by the Glendale Credit association to consider the plans to alter the name of the organization and to formulate other plans to widen the scope of its operations, met last night in the Citizens' building and discussed the various matters in connection with the proposed change at length.

It was decided to advise that the name of the organization be changed to the Glendale Merchants' Association, which, it was declared, would permit the admission of practically every business man in the city and to hold public meetings at stated intervals at which matters of interest to the commercial life of Glendale could be discussed. A number of other suggestions were made and will be submitted to the association at its next meeting on Monday, when a definite course of action will be adopted.

Speeders Face Maimed Children In Court Room

DETROIT, May 3.—Maimed human evidence of the result of auto speeding confronted motorists who appeared before Judge Charles L. Bartlett on charges of reckless driving and driving while drunk. Thirteen pairs of childish eyes in thirteen wan little faces stared out at them from the jury box, as, one after another, the careless drivers trudged benchward for disposition of their cases. By the children's presence Judge Bartlett hoped, he said, to impress upon automobile drivers the consequences of reckless driving.

Reapportionment War Rages in Assembly

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 3.—The long-delayed reapportionment battle was brought to a head in the California legislature this forenoon with Edwin Baker's constitutional division of state assembly and senatorial districts being taken up for consideration. Mr. Baker introduced the question and was ably reinforced by speeches by Assemblymen Hugh Pomeroy, Frank C. Weller, Henry Carter and C. D. Ball. Opposition was offered by Assemblymen Cleary and Crittenden, cow county representatives. Recess at 12 o'clock delayed action on the measure until later this afternoon.

Carter made a strong plea that members fulfill their oath of office by complying with the constitution and voting for reapportionment. Weller also pleaded that the provisions of the constitution be carried out, stating he now represented the most populous assembly district in the senate, which included Glendale, Burbank, etc.

Idaho Snakes Bought For Rheumatism Cure

ONTARIO, Ore., May 3.—Forty-seven rattlesnakes, captured at Black's Creek, about 12 miles from Boise, Idaho, have been sent by Robert Limbert to the Dutch government for experimental work. The Dutch government is perfecting a serum which, when combined with the poison from rattlesnakes and injected into the muscles, will, it is claimed, cure rheumatism, Limbert said. It took less than an hour and a quarter to bag the reptiles. They were found in a space 20 feet square. Limbert stated that the removal of the fangs does not, as commonly believed, render a snake harmless, for other fangs will grow in about three weeks.

BISHOP IN PLEA FOR REVOLUTION

American Divine Launches Sensation at Meeting of Russian Church

BULLETIN

MOSCOW, May 3.—The all-Russian ecclesiastical conference of the "living church" today by a vote of 340 to 10 adopted a resolution condemning former Patriarch Tikhon of the orthodox church, who is under arrest charged with treason.

By ADELE PARKER
For International News Service

MOSCOW, May 3.—Bishop Edgar Blake, who said he spoke for the Methodists of the United States, created a sensation today when he advocated revolution in a speech before the all-Russian ecclesiastical council of the "living church." This is the branch of the orthodox church which supports the soviets.

"I bring greetings ffom the Methodists of America," said Bishop Blake. "These distressing days are witnessing one of the most remarkable upheavals in history. But I do not share the fears that civilization is doomed.

"Revolutionary upheavals do not bring death but larger life inspired by God. It is folly for the church to pronounce anathema against those who are seeking new truth.

"The church must seek the Great Adventure' of free investigation. A church's right to exist is only to serve the people. Only a few challenge the right of the church to exist.

"A great struggle is in progress to abolish oppression.

Church Must Share

"Those who have been oppressed and exploited must be given a chance at the best things in life. In this struggle the church can not stand aloof. Russia is passing through a great social and economic experiment. For the first time in history a great nation and a great people are dedicating themselves to the service of mankind. But, unless God assists, how can this movement succeed?

"Doubtless things have been done in Russia which should not have been done. Also, things were not done which should have been done. The churches should join hands with any government that is trying to raise the masses to the place God intended they should be."

Other speakers condemned Most Rev. Father Tikhon, former patriarch of the orthodox church, who is under arrest charged with treason.

After Bishop Blake had ceased speaking, Metropolitan Peter, head of the orthodox church, warmly embraced him.

MONTROSE

COMPANY DRILLS NEW WATER WELL

Water Stands Forty Feet From Top With Hole Down Over 225 Ft.

The Crescenta Mutual Water Company is now drilling a new well on Honolulu boulevard, near the site of its present well and reservoir, which will supply its members in the Verdugo valley.

The cost of the new well and its equipment will be approximately $4000. It has reached a depth of over 225 feet already, and water is within forty feet of the top. The bore is to be sunk as deeply as possible. At a depth of 175 feet in the old well the drill struck granite.

The Crescenta Mutual Water Company, which has its office in the Montrose State Bank, is a mutual organization. Every water user in the district owns stock. Shares are sold for $50 and entitle the holder to 5000 gallons of water at a charge of two dollars a month. Expenses of maintenance come out of the monthly receipts. Funds accruing from the sale of stock is used for the purchase of new equipment. The stock is transferable, and is sold with property. The company now has about 500 stockholders.

Dr. C. L. Turner, who lives on Sierra Madre avenue, La Canyada, has leased the Waste house, on Del Mar street, in Montrose, and will open her office there tomorrow.

FIVE KILLED IN WRECK OF TRAIN

Denver Flyer Crashes Into Ditch After Jumping D. & R. G.-W. Tracks

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., May 3.—Five persons are dead today and more than thirty injured, and it is feared others may be dying under the wreckage of Denver & Rio Grande Western train No. 1, eastbound from San Francisco to Denver, following a derailment near Woodside, Utah, 130 miles west of this city late last night.

The crack passenger train, known as the Denver flyer, was traveling as a "doubleheader" through the mountain country of Utah when it is believed to have hit an open switch, resulting in the two engines, two baggage cars, the smoker and a chair car leaving the rails and crashing into a ditch.

Rush Relief Train

A relief train was hurriedly made up here and several nurses and doctors rushed to the scene of the accident, an isolated town with few facilities for caring for the injured.

Engineer Fred R. Rader, of the second engine, was reported instantly killed when his engine went into the ditch. Fireman Albert Anderson was also killed. A woman identified as a Mrs. Morris of Moab, Utah, was found dead in the wreckage.

Train Brings Injured

SALT LAKE CITY, May 3.—A special train carrying five dead and thirty injured is expected here shortly before noon today from the scene of the wreck of the "Denver Flyer," crack passenger train of the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad, which was derailed between Woodside and Grassy, Utah, 100 miles southeast of here late last night. The injured, several in serious condition, will be taken to Salt Lake hospitals.

The dead include Engineer Rader and Fireman Anderson of the train crew, and three unidentified passengers.

Railroad officials said the cause of the wreck had not been determined. The accident occurred in a mountainous region and traffic on the line will be held up until late this evening before the debris is cleared up.

Spiritual Delusions Confuse Believers

That we are living in an age of spiritual delusions, when it is difficult to distinguish between the true and the false, was asserted by Rev. C. S. Prout in a discourse Wednesday night at the Adventist Tabernacle at Eagle Rock. "People are attracted today by the sensational and the spectacular," he said, "and the devil is working by this means to spread his deceptions throughout the world. The Saviour and his disciples never used sensational methods to advance the kingdom of God, and laid emphasis upon obedience to the word of God rather than upon the miracles which they performed.

"The Pharisees were always asking Christ to show them some sign that he was the Messiah, and he reproved them for it and declared that no sign would be given them except the sign of the prophet Jonas.

"Rev. Prout called attention to the words of Christ recorded in Matt. 7:21-23: "Many will say to me in that day, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name, and in thy name have cast out devils, and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity."

BUDGET CHANGES LOOM IN SENATE

Amendments Will Be Taken Up for Consideration at Session Today

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Further butchering of the Budget Bill by the California Senate seems assured today as it takes up consideration of twenty-seven amendments recommended by the Finance Committee early this morning.

This number includes twenty-four amendments introduced by Homer R. Spence in the Assembly, but defeated by that body, besides two amendments by Senator Thomas Ingram, withdrawing appropriations for the Fish and Game Commission and the State Real Estate Commission and substituting new matter establishing their right to self-supporting funds. The twenty-seventh amendment is one by Senator Frank S. Boggs allocating one per cent of the normal school funds for the support of the administrative offices of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Another amendment, which failed for lack of a second, was offered by Senator Newton M. Allen of Los Angeles to provide $1,250,000 as a special budget item for the Southern Branch University of California. It was stated by members of the committee that the southern branch would be satisfactorily cared for by special recurrent appropriation contained in a bill introduced by Senator Charles W. Lyon. This was concurred in by Robert Sproul, controller of the University.

Experts Explain

The committee listened to opinions on the intricacies of the budget act as expounded by Controller Ray L. Riley, Attorney General U. S. Webb, Deputy Attorney General R. T. McKissock, also Mrs. Nellie B. Pierce of the Board of Control.

Riley informed the committee that his bonding company's counsel had advised him only to honor those warrants for items which were specifically mentioned in the budget. He also stated on July 1 he would turn all funds from self-supporting departments into the general fund, unless legislation to the contrary was enacted. He considered the Spence amendments as offered the committee by Senator Herbert Jones, and finally adopted, were sufficient.

Senator Walter McDonald of San Francisco interjected during the debate on the amendments covering the situation that the intent of the authors was of a political nature, and that they aimed to make the budget total appear higher.

An $800,000 duplicate appropriation for the Motor Vehicle Department was discovered in the Assembly Bill during the consideration. It will be eliminated by the Governor.

Senator Arthur Breed of Piedmont and Lieut. Gov. C. C. Young, who was present, both made a plea that the committee would pass the bill out and that no further amendments should be offered from the floor. This was mutually agreed upon.

Long Session Feared

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—"If this gabfest continues we will be here until the Fourth of July," remarked one legislator at the Capitol.

"Yes," chimed in the Senator Herbert W. Slater of Santa Rosa. "I have already been invited to deliver the Fourth of July oration in the Senate."

Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, budget making member of the board of control, was the third prophet to predict that the legislature would remain in session for another two months. Mrs. Pierce said "I fully expect that my friends of the legislature will still be enjoying the salubrious Sacramento climate when we celebrate the Declaration of Independence."

This was a symposium of sentiments expressed at the conclusion of the Senate Finance Committee hearing of the Budget Bill in the small hours of the morning.

Goodman Rent Agency Locates Newcomers

Mrs. Stella Goodman reports many newcomers and Glendalians are being located in homes through her rental department.

The Misses Pearl and Ruby Garvin, sisters, both of them being trained nurses, are recent arrivals from San Diego and have located at 309 Pioneer Drive. They expect to make this their home if they find an opening in their line of work.

William White, of Van Nuys, has leased his ranch home and moved to Glendale. He will locate at 373 West Wilson avenue. Mr. White has purchased property on North Orange street and expects to erect flats in the immediate future.

Mrs. A. Algier has sold his home at 612 North Orange street, and has leased a new home owned by E. R. Breman, located at 731 West Milford street, and is moving this week.

Niagara Falls, in wearing away, has receded about seven miles, it is estimated.

One easy turn of the Lorain Red Wheel gives you a choice of 44 measured and controlled oven heats for any kind of oven cooking or baking.

Let's Prepare Tomorrow's Breakfast Tonight

MORNING, Winter, dark, cold! Who wants to get up and prepare breakfast? Nobody! But Dad must go to his work, the kiddies to school, and Mother attend to her household duties. All must eat breakfast—365 days a year.

Three hundred and sixty-five breakfasts to get in every home, and usually it's the same person who prepares every single one of them.

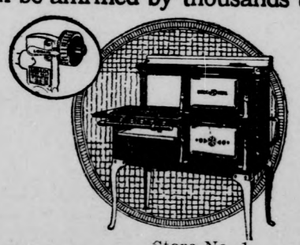
What a wonderful thing then is a gas range that, during the long hours of the night, will cook many things in the oven as perfectly as though a great chef watched each dish carefully.

That's not only possible—it's true, as can be affirmed by thousands upon thousands of happy owners of Gas Ranges equipped with the

LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

Besides, in the oven of a Lorain-equipped Gas Range you can cook a complete luncheon, dinner or supper, at one time—and without watching. You can roast meats, boil vegetables, bake desserts, and can fruits and vegetables without ever a failure.

We'll be glad to explain and demonstrate any one of our gas ranges equipped with the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator. That you may learn the many distinct advantages of these wonderful stoves, come in Today.



Quick Meal Gas Ranges

Zinc coated oven linings, easily removed and cleaned. Sheet metal parts of rust-resisting Ingot iron. You will like the simplicity of Quick Meal construction. Durability and convenience mark them as better ranges for every purpose. Castings are smooth and there is no bolt strain on enamel parts. Many sizes and styles for big and little kitchens.

Spanking Sets Boy's Hip Pocket Alight

SANDY SPRINGS, O., May 3.—Mrs. Nora Young's boy, who lives across the river in Lewis county, Kentucky, will not again carry matches in his hip pocket.

The other day he disobeyed a parental command, and she administered punishment where it would do the most good. The force of her blows ignited some matches in his pocket, and the resulting fire practically consumed his pants. The lad also was slightly burned.

MULTIPLE SALES REACH $105,000

Publicity for U. P. Magazine Goes to Press for Glendale Issue

Reports submitted at the weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty Board, which met yesterday at the Harriett Mae Tea Room on East Harvard, showed that the assets of the organization now total $940.84 and that it is in a sound and favorable condition. The commission received from the multiple listing sales during the past month amounted to $243, on the sixteen sales made under this method, amounting to $105,000. The total number of listings during April was fifty-five, valued at $426,000.

Peter Hanson reported on behalf of the publicity committee that the articles that were to be prepared for the June number of The Arrowhead, the Union Pacific magazine which is to be widely distributed as a special Glendale number, have already been sent to the publishers and that the magazine has gone to press.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, who will shortly leave for an extended trip to several eastern cities, was appointed as a delegate to the National Real Estate convention which meets in Cleveland, and will endeavor to tell the assembled realtors all about the city she represents.

Discuss C. of C.

Means for working in closer harmony and co-operation with the Glendale Chamber of Commerce were discussed by W. A. Horn, who urged that the membership of the Glendale Realty Board lend their aid in whatever way is possible to further the work that the Chamber of Commerce is doing. P. J. Hayselden, one of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, who was at the luncheon, also asked that the members of the board aid in the work of the organization, and he stated that no criticism of the Realty Board, either as an organization or as individuals was ever heard at any of the meetngs of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hayselden suggested that the Chamber of Commerce should confine its activities to promoting and stabilizing the manufacturing and business interests of Glendale and to promoting a wider knowledge of the city and its advantages and to fostering the growth of Glendale in every way possible.

City Manager W. H. Reeves stated that the present board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce represents the choice of a majority of the members and asked that they be given a fair chance to work out their program and that they be given the support of every member of the organization.

L. A. Spiritualist to Speak Here Tonight

Rev. Myrtle Hoagland of Los Angeles is to lecture tonight at the meeting at 8 o'clock of the Success club in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

The real air castle cherished in everyone's mind is the home they would like to plan and have built for their own occupancy. Planning this home is a constant mental process that continues involuntarily as one ages, travels about seeing attractive designs in the homes of others, and from these develops original and what he thinks are better building arrangements.

Glendalians are to be offered opportunity for picturing their ideal homes according to architectural methods and entering them in a home design contest, to be staged in connection with the coming industrial exposition by the Glendale Branch of the Security Housing corporation, which will offer $300 in prizes for the best designs.

The contest is to encourage better homes, and anyone interested may enter. The contest closes May 21, and those desirous of entering may secure full information at the Security Housing corporation office at 144-A South Brand boulevard.

Some of the rules of the contest are stated as:

Anyone is eligible.

Any drawing not winning a prize may be retained by the Security Housing corporation on a payment of $25.

All drawings will remain on exhibition at the exposition until closing, June 3. After this date all drawings not winning prizes will remain on file at owners' risk at our Glendale office until called for.

CIVICS STUDENTS VISIT CITY HALL

Pupils Gain Knowledge of Glendale Government From Officials

The A-8 class in civics of Glendale avenue school, accompanied by the teacher, Miss Gladys Sharpe, spent a very pleasant and instructive hour at the city hall, Tuesday afternoon of this week. They paid a visit to the police station, where Lieutenant Joe Griffin enlightened them on the subject of photographing finger prints and other interesting details connected with the routine of the department. They made a call at the building inspector's office and were entertained by an instructive talk by the gentleman in charge. They were received in the office of city clerk, by A. J. Van Wie, who explained many of the duties of this important department. The last fifteen minutes was spent in the council chamber, where Judge F. H. Lowe entertained these coming citizens with a pleasant talk on the organization of the court, and different cases that are tried before him. Forty pupils were included in the party.

Glee Club to Sing In Tropico Church

The concert by the Men's Glee club of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles announced for Friday night at the Tropico Presbyterian church, corner of Laurel and South Central avenue, under the auspices of the Men's club of that church promises to be a real treat.

In addition to the chorus and solo work, not only vocal but flute and violin, the Harmony Quartet, which has just returned from a highly successful concert tour and was one of the greatest attractions at the Christian Endeavor district convention at Pomona recently, will contribute to the program. There will be no admission, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses.

GETS TWO LIMITS

Somewhere in San Bernardino county the trout are calling according to W. C. Waring of the Army and Navy Store, 201 South Brand boulevard. He returned last night and reported that he had caught two limits. However, he took two days to entice them ashore.

Grapes and other fruits that have been difficult to ship may now be taken across the country after a saturation in a combination of carbondioxid and other inert gases.

Plenty of Trout in Mountain Streams

Trout are so thick in nearby mountain streams that they have to come ashore to sleep, according to the reports of returning Isaak Waltons, all of whom are chuck-full of optimistic reports of their wonderful success in angling. However, all of them seem to leave their catches behind, and so far nary a fish has been seen in this office.

More local celebrities are out after the living rainbows, according to the angling books in The Sport Shop at 146 South Brand boulevard and Cornwell & Kelty's hardware store at 107 South Brand boulevard, which show that licenses have been issued to the following: Charles A. Dutro, 351 West Maple street; William B. Kelly, 305 East Ranlolph street; C. J Bruck and Herbert Bruck, 1241 South Orange street; Norman W. Boster, 329 West Lomita avenue; Rene C. Olin, 1312 North Columbus avenue; Charles M. Young, 116 West Magnolia avenue; M. S. Crawford, 800 South Central avenue; Frank L. Jackson, 216 South Louise street; W. R. Vanderwood, 519 North Kenwood street; C. A. Smiter, 638 North Isabel street; Jack Eaton, 340 West Lexington drive; J. H. Webster, 1020 South Central avenue; John F. Gutekunst 1305½ East Harvard street; C. R. Freeman, 509 Myrtle street.

Boulevard Will Link Glendale With Coast

L. T. Rowley of 334 Vine street was a delegate from the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night in the Masonic Grill, Hollywood, at a meeting of representatives of civic organizations in the third supervisorial district. The principal topic of discussion was the proposed Hyperion boulevard link between Glendale and Santa Monica boulevard. A representative of the affiliated chambers of commerce in the fifth supervisorial district was present and agreed to co-operate in securing the necessary new bridge over the Los Angeles river.

Union Officers Hold Conference on Strike

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Officials of the International Seamen's union were in conference with the United States shipping board late yesterday, relative to the wage increase demanded by the seamen which has resulted in a marine strike.

It was indicated a decision would be reached very soon and that a formal statement would be made. Members of the union are employed on government ships operating under allocation to private owners, but the shipping board retains charge labor policies.

Amundsen's Ship to Miss Pole, Is Belief

SEATTLE, May 3.—Captain Roald Amundsen's Arctic exploration ship, the Maud, now frozen in the polar ice and drifting over the top of the earth, will miss the North pole by three or four degrees, according to Captain Otto Sverdrup, noted Norwegian navigator and explorer, here today.

It is impossible for a ship to navigate far enough north before being frozen in to be carried over the exact pole, says Sverdrup, who believes the Maud will reach a point as far north as Nansen did, 86 degrees.

Sverdrup was captain of Nansen's polar exploration ship, the Fram, which drifted across the polar seas twenty-five years ago.

BIG BEAR FISHING

Trout are of good size this season in Big Bear lake according to the report of Emil O. Kiefer of 511 East Wilson avenue, who returned yesterday with the gills from two three-pounders and three two-pounders. He reported that another large one got away with both hooks and probably is using them to pick his teeth.

Mr. Kiefer, who is a member of the firm of Kiefer & Eyerick, was accompanied on the trip to and from Chip-o-Wood camp by W. H. Crane, who formerly lived in Glendale and now lives in Los Angeles.

BURBANK

RADIO BALLOONS BOOST BURBANK

Invention Will Revolutionize Wireless, Is Belief of Numerous People

In the radio balloon, R. W. Colburn and Roy Knabenshue, of Burbank, have created an invention that will revolutionize the wireless telephone and advertise this city across the earth, say those who have investigated the matter.

At a public demonstration given recently, on the vacant lots opposite the city hall, cameras from the Pathe News, the Kinogram and the Los Angeles Times clicked pictures of the proceedings that will be flashed in movie theaters everywhere, with resultant thousands of dollars' worth of free advertising to Burbank.

Specifically, the Colburn-Knabenshue idea is to carry a radio antenna into the upper air stratas by means of a small balloon, in order to reach an altitude where the magnetic influences close to earth will be non-existent. In the demonstration before the cameras, and with scientific men present, it was proved that this device eliminates the rasping sound that has hitherto been the chief objection to the radio, the tones produced being of exceptional clearness and purity.

Aided By Wife

The balloon used is fourteen feet long and about four feet across. It is made of the lightest weight Japanese silk, treated with several coats of oil. Mrs. Knabenshue, enthusiastic assistant of her husband, did all the sewing on the bag, bringing together its many long and difficult seams.

Being of the kite type, Messrs Colburn and Knabenshue claim for the baloon a life of over two years and an ability to remain in the air against sixty mile gales. Larger balloons, which they plan to make for commercial stations, will be able to withstand practically all atmospheric conditions and will be capable of rising to altitudes of 3000 feet and better. The present balloon can rise 1000 feet.

Program On Radio

It is understood to be the plan of the Colburn-Knabenshue interests to manufacture a balloon that will be available at a popular price. It is said that a representative of a large Pacific coast radio firm, who was on the grounds at the demonstration, has put in a bid for the agency.

Mr. Knabenshue, during the war, made observation balloons.

T. A. Carleton states that the radio balloon will loom over the tent all the time, during the progress of the Merchants' Exposition, with a receiving set below that will give the public an opportunity to hear radio of a raspless quality such as they never before listened to.

And on the night of May 10, from 8 until 9:30 o'clock, Burbank is to send out a very fine program over the Los Angeles Times radio. The Palais Majestic orchestra will render special numbers and local musicians are all priming themselves for the occasion. As the Exposition will be in progress at this time, the Colburn-Knabenshue balloon will be up in the ozone above the big tent, catching the program and giving it back to Burbank.

Recommend City Buy Lot

The Planning Commission has adopted a resolution recommending to the Board of Trustees that they purchase the property adjoining the city hall on the south side, to be used for park purposes.

Inasmuch as the city is not at the present time in a position to purchase this property in full, it is the commission's suggestion that it be bought in lots, as money becomes available.

The Planning Commission also passed a resolution recommending to the trustees that no more subdivisions be accepted along the S. P. right-of-way, unless provision is made for a roadway in conformity with Front street and said right-of-way, from the east to the west limits of the city, the idea being to conform with boulevards now being planned by the City of Los Angeles.

EAGLE ROCK

C. OF C. DRIVE IS ON FOR MEMBERS

Reorganized Body to Start Campaign to Promote Welfare of City

"To Los Angeles, the annexation of Eagle Rock is a mere incident." To Eagle Rock, it is a tremendous reality."

Those words summarize the attitude of Eagle Rock business men toward the great event coming May 15, on which day the community becomes an indivisible part of the great metropolis of Los Angeles, merging its 6500 citizens with a population of close to 1,000,000, a population that is growing at the rate of 250,000 a year.

Commenting on the significance to Eagle Rock of annexation, O. J. Root, president of the reorganized Chamber of Commerce, points out that the paramount need of the new community is going to be a strong Chamber.

"Compare Eagle Rock with other sections of Los Angeles," says Mr. Root. "Hollywood's Chamber of Commerce has 2000 members, that of San Pedro 800, Van Nuys 600, Sawtelle 500, each with a paid secretary and well-located headquarters. All of them devote fully half of their time to working for improvements for their respective communities, legislative, civic and other projects they wish to put through their city council or the various boards of control of the greater metropolis.

Follow C. of C. Lead

"In fact, it has become a generally followed custom of public officials, both city and county, to look to the Chambers of Commerce in the several communities, for guidance in the matter of things done or proposed for those sections."

Ben H. Schouboe, campaign director of Eagle Rock's reorganized Chamber of Commerce, states that the new Chamber will call together the representative citizens of the district, make plans for water, sanitation, schools, street improvements and repair, fire protection, police protection, building inspection and regulation, zoning and other similar matters, and will bring the views of Eagle Rock people with respect to these things persistently before the right officials or public bodies, to secure prompt and satisfactory action.

"Furthermore, the new Chamber will promote proper commercial development," says Mr. Schouboe, "and will serve to make Eagle Rock in all respects an ideal 'homeland,' which is the slogan of the vigorous membership drive now under way.

"I feel that the special fund of $3000 should be explained quite fully. This fund is to provide the money with which to advertise the homeland attractions of Eagle Rock and stimulate interest in community betterment of all kinds. Business men, property owners, realtors and professional men who gain their livelihood in the district will create this fund."

Mr. Schouboe states that nearly 100 Eagle Rock citizens have already signed the charter membership roll of the reorganized Chamber and have agreed to join actively in the intensive campaign under way, soliciting as members their neighbors and friends. The drive began Wednesday morning, May 2, following the banquet the night before. Membership dues have been placed at $12 a year, payable annually in advance. The campaign will last until the end of the week, whereupon there will be an election of a governing board of twelve directors. These directors will, in turn, choose their officers, the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The secretary will be the only officer to draw a salary, and will be employed by the board to give his full time to the work of the organization.

Sales Tax Receipts Show Big Increase

Manufacturers' tax on beverages and syrups went to the front with receipts which show a gain of 91 per cent.

Retailers paid $52,788 tax on jewelry they sold as against $34,900 for April, 1922, a gain of 50 per cent.

Manufacturers' excise tax collections were $96,995.52 compared with $74,849.61 for the corresponding period of last year, a gain of 30 per cent.

Collections on admissions to theatres and other places of amusement were $252,209.17 compared with $209,622.47 for last year, a gain of 20 per cent.

Tax receipts on telephone and telegraph messages were $26,367.52 compared with last April's receipts of $20,172.51, a gain of 28 per cent. This is a record-breaking collection of this class of taxes.

The Villian in the Show

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY
Ad Schuster

In the office behind the general store of West & Cort the young partners faced each other savagely across a table.

"That is the reason," it was Manley West who spoke, "that is the reason you advanced me money for a house, so you could freeze me out. And I thought you were a friend! Well, you've licked me, but not for good. A man can't turn a trick like that without feeling sorry some day."

The young partner rose. "Maybe, too, you thought it would make it easier for you to win Alice. Well, do you know what I am going to do now? I'm going to tell her what has taken place, to ask her to go with me into another part of the country, and, listen, Cort, she'll go. That's where I beat you, after all."

Cort tried to explain. "You'll get over feeling sore. It was all business, straight business. I want to put this place on its feet. The town is growing. In a couple of years I can sell out at a profit and go to New York. You know I want to be an actor, and I'm not going to make the mistake of starting in broke."

"No," the other answered, "not while you can double-cross a partner. Not you!"

* * * * *

In the west Manley West held the title of king, and his domain was large. It is true he was the sheep king and that his tithes were taken with the shearing, but the country knew him as its wealthiest citizen. Until today he had not heard of Cort. Riding home from the city he read the paper and the announcement of the forthcoming visit of Theodore Cort, famous actor.

"Can't be so famous," the sheepman mused, "if he is going to try out his show in this neighborhood. It says here Wyantville is to have the honor of a premier production and that the author and other notables will be present. 'Upon the success of the play,' " Manley was reading, " 'depends its production in the metropolis.' That must mean Spokane. If it goes good there probably it will move east. Well, Cort is a good actor—he nad me guessing."

The rest of the trip Manley gave to thought. On his fingers he checked off the number of men on his ranch and then included a few neighbors. It would cause a sizable bill, this plan he was formulating, but it was worth it.

The Care-Free Ranch had the surprise of its life when Manley drove up, next day, with a load of strange garments. In the large machine shed the sheepmen herded the male population, dealt out the clothes with an eye to sizes, and ordered them donned. Black trousers took the place of overalls, men who had not worn white shirts since their wedding days encased their chests in the hard-boiled variety, then covered all but the front expanse with low-cut vests and evening coats.

"Wot's the main idee, a masquerade or a minstrel show?"

"It's a kind of a show, all right," Manley answered. "We are all going to Wyantville to see the opening of the new play and we are going to give the actors a new conception of western culture. I'll take you all down. I've fixed it for machines, and you do just what I say. There will be a full day's pay in it, besides considerable fun and a dinner. What do you say?"

"I'd see a show and eat a dinner for less," one of the men decided, and the others agreed.

Wyantville, proud of the premier production, was prouder of itself. The twenty men in evening clothes, distributed about the house, were proof of the fact the town recognized the honor that was being accorded. No one knew there were that many "dress suits" in the county.

Theodore Cort looked over the footlights at the crowded house and nerved himself for a supreme effort. This was his chance, the chance that had been so long arriving. He did not see Manley West behind the program which covered all but his eyes.

The rustle of the first five minutes subsided and the play got into its story. A tall gentleman in an evening suit rose slowly and walked out, while most of Wyantville turned its head to watch. Cort raised his voice and drew the eyes back to him. Another man rose, surveyed the stage solemnly, and left. What did these men expect, a comic opera? Was something wrong?

One after another, until twenty had repeated the performance, Manley West's trained troupe of sheepmen regarded the stage and actor with deliberation, shrugged their shoulders and stamped out. There were a few who yawned and two who stretched their arms, and so contagious was the action that more than one good citizen of Wyantville, not to be outdone by their better dressed friends, decided, too, the show was not worth seeing and followed the example. Cort stumbled over his lines, thought of the manager in front and his ruined prospects. He moved to signal for the curtain, then looked down upon the last of the silent protesters.

Manley West was standing by his seat with a strange, incredulous look upon his face, as if he were asking if such a thing as this could be called a show. Manley held the look as he turned to the audience and won an immediate response. A dozen men were ready to take the cue from the sheep king. Cort signalled for the curtain and the snow was over.

"It was a dirty trick, all right," said est as he rode home, but he has had it coming for a long time. I wonder if I dare tell Alice."

Daily Fashion Hint

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

MODES FOR THE FASHION-WISE

To be ultra-smart, a sports dress should have a blouse that is both checked and monogrammed. A gay green with bold check in rose is a favorite combination, and the blouse of the model pictured adds a collar of plain rose silk as a background for the green silk monogram. Tiny pockets are inserted into the blouse near the lower edge on either side of the front. For the skirt any of the soft knitted fabrics suggestive of the golf course, the tennis court or the country club, may be used.

The second frock would be handsome fashioned in bright yellow linen for summer wear. There need be no contrasting fabric to aid the decorative scheme, for a simple arrangement of pearl buttons are sufficiently distinctive where simplicity is to be maintained. If preferred, the sleeves may be terminated at the elbows and finished with turn-back cuffs. Medium size requires 4 1-4 yards of 36-inch material.

First Model: Pictorial Review Sports Dress No. 1537. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents. Initial No. 12254. Perforated Pattern, 30 cents.

Second Model: Dress No. 1542. Sizes, 34 to 52 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Beauty Chats

by Edna Kent Forbes

AFTER BABY COMES

Not very long ago I wrote a few chats on beauty treatments during the coming of a baby. Several young mothers have written and asked me what to do after the baby comes to improve their appearance. As I said before, the birth of a child need never take away from a woman's beauty; if she takes care of herself properly it should only enhance her beauty.

But please note that I said: "If she takes care of herself properly." The first thing is to stay in bed long enough afterwards; three weeks before she ventures to sit up in her room, five before she attempts much activity, six before she goes back to normal exertions. There are, of course, many unusually health women who do not need so much rest, and there are many unfortunate women who cannot afford it. There are also, unfortunately, many doctors and maternity nurses who say their patients are "very bright" and clever if they get up early and who encourage them to do so—it being less work for the nurse and doctor. But the logic of the six weeks' rest is proved by the well-known fact that it takes six weeks and sometimes more for all those abdominal organs to return to normal size and position.

Even if she has not worn corsets before, it will be necessary now to wear them for some months. All those muscles have been stretched and are now lax and must be supported until they are strong enough to support themselves. Meantime she must take exercises. Bowing exercises—that is, standing with hands on the hips, spine straight, bending forward as much as possible a dozen times, then bending sideways a dozen times—are excellent for restoring the waistline to its normal size; while lying on the floor with the feet supported and rising to a sitting position will strengthen the abdomen and make it flat again. Outdoor games and swimming are also advisable.

Obelia Y.—It is likely that a tiny vein broke when you had the skin trouble. Consult a dermatologist about it, as it is possible the congestion may be removed by scattering. Otherwise there will be those tiny red lines under the skin for a long time to come.

Grace L.—There is no danger that the lashes would grow beyond a reasonable length, no matter how you stimulated the growth.

Dowry.—There is no depilatory that can remove superfluous hair permanently. Consult the telephone book for addresses of people who do this work.

Blue Eyes.—Develop your legs through exercise and massage. Cocoa butter used with the massage will help to fatten.

D. F. M.—I will be glad to mail you a formula that covers this subject of caring for the bust on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

Tomorrow—Manicure Scissors

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Diet and Health

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Doctor:

"I have followed the directions for reducing and am down to normal. I look fine, no longer stuffy looking, and have lost four inches of waist measure.—Mrs. M."

Happy days, ain't it, Mrs. M.? Those of you who need to can do the same as Mrs. M. by sending an addressed envelope and four cents in stamps for our instructions on reducing—if you follow them.

Mrs. B.—It is not necessary for you to do anything to develop the bust of your 16-year-old girl. It will develop as she grows and puts on a little weight. You may have the pamphlet on gaining by sending the envelope addressed to yourself and four cents in stamps.

There is nothing that will make the hair naturally curly except being born that way. The permanent waves will last until the hair grows out. In competent hands this process is apparently harmless. Personally I have had mine done five times. It lasts about six or seven months each time.

Mrs. F.—There is no safe home remedy for the removal of moles. If they are removed at all they should be removed by a skilful surgeon or skin specialist. The big mole that is in a position where it is constantly irritated is a possible source of cancer later in life and should be removed. Do not pull hairs out of moles, as that may irritate them. The hairs can be clipped every day or so if necessary, but should not be pulled out.

Mrs. J.—Some of the things that cause enlarged glands in the neck of children are infections that go through decayed teeth, or chronically or acutely inflamed tonsils, or sores on the head caused by scratching if there are pericuii (lice), or glandular tuberculosis. Malnourished children often seem to develop them. You will have to be guided by your physician in the case of your little girl.

Mrs. W.—If you are thirty pounds overweight, as you say you are, it is probable that that which caused the overweight has also caused your high blood pressure, because it will do that little thing very effectively. You will get relief undoubtedly when you reduce your weight. The pamphlet has been sent.

Mrs. H.—You say you weigh nearly 300 pounds and are still gaining, and that you are troubled with arthritis. You must have the constitution of the well-known ox not to be troubled with a great many other things at that weight. Do let us know how you get along. The instructions have been sent you.

Mrs. K.—The navel's getting sore and discharging pus in a young girl of twenty might be due to a little infection which would be cleared up by washing often in hot water and applying iodine or some antiseptic powder such as boracic acid or iodoform powder. If the trouble does not clear up under this local treatment you had better see a surgeon about it, for it may be possible that it is due to a congenital defect.

In the embryo there is a little loop from the intestines which may extend out to the navel cord a little ways. It is called Mackel's diverticulum. It disappears usually before the child is born. Occasionally this persists after the child is born and will cause trouble, because it is connected directly to the intestines and there might be some seepage from them. Although these diverticula are harmless in themselves, they may ensnare the bowel, so they should be attended to.

Side Talks

"WHY"—A KEY TO SCIENCE AND INVENTIONS

I can never hear a child rebuked by a nervous, tired mother for asking "why" without feeling that a great mistake has been made.

That is, if the "why" is not the mere careless question from which the child's mind will flit to other matters before the parent has a chance to frame an answer.

When the "why" is the expression of real interest, an active and inquiring mind, it is one of the biggest words in the universe.

Curiosity Greatest Force in World

There is no greater force in all the world for progress than curiosity.

"Why" has stood behind almost all the great changes in the history of the world.

"Why" and "What would happen if" have stood behind all the great discoveries in the world of science.

Newton wondered why the apple fell.

Faraday wanted to know what would happen if . . .

"Should the dynamos and motors which have come into being as the outcome of Faraday's experiment be stopped this evening," says Harvey Robinson, "the business man of today might, as he trudged home past lines of dead cars, through dark streets, to an unlighted house, engage in a little creative thought of his own and perceive that he and his laborers would have no modern factories and mines to quarrel about if it had not been for the strange, practical effects of the idle curiosity of scientists and inventors and engineers."

Behind the faces of all things are reasons for them, and he who has an interest in these reasons will never find life dull and stupid.

It is often a fascinating thing to search for the reasons of things you have always considered obvious. For instance, why do we think of one odor as bad and one as good? Why should we all unanimously agree to like the one and dislike the other by instinct? Presumably it is because the odors that we call bad are associated with decay and the life instinct of the race has taught us to avoid them, while the odors that we call good are associated with fruit and food or with the half way stage in nature's production of food—the flower.

A Result of Inquiry

A woman who has just written a most successful series of stories about Santa Claus was asked how she happened to write them. She answered: "I was hearing the opera 'Coq d'Or,' in which fairy tale a jolly old king rides away to war on a hobby horse. The old king looked like Santa Claus, and it occurred to me to inquire into the life of this Santa Claus person outside his stock Christmas stunt. Whereupon I wrote the first story, the life of Santa Claus, tying him with Mother Goose characters."

That story brought her her first big literary success. How did she get her start? Because "it occurred to her to inquire."

Better to Explain the "Why"

If a child asks "why" automatically and does not attempt to assimilate the answer, it deserves to be ignored or rebuked.

If it asks "why" because it really wants to know, it surely deserves to have you exert all the patience and painstaking you can possibly afford.

Remember, when you are impatient, what Robinson says about curiosity:

"History, namely change, has been mainly due to a small number of seers—really gropers and monkeyers—whose native curiosity outran that of their fellows and led them to escape here and there from the sanctified blindness of their time."

There are many women who will not be able to buy a white hat this summer to wear with their white wash dresses. This is especially true of the woman who has children to clothe; after Bobby gets his new shoes and Dottie her new summer underwear, etc., there will be little money left over to buy Mother a white hat.

Yet, we all feel that our dark, "everyday" straw hat looks frumpish with a white or light-colored dress. The ideal hat to wear would be a white, rather large brimmed shade-hat. Such a hat can be crocheted very inexpensively. And the result will be every bit as becoming as a bought straw one. Here are my directions:

Crocheted White Shade Hat: The first step is to buy a white wire frame of a shape which suits your face. Then make a chain of eight, working very loosely and using single white crochet silk, join in a ring. 5 ch., 1 d. c. into the next st. of ring *, 1 ch., skip 1 st., 1 d. c. into next st., 1 ch., 1 d. c. into same st. Repeat from * all the way around, close row with sl. st., 5 ch. Turn. Make all the d. c. in this one-half inch long.

Second Row—1 d. c. over next ch. * 1 ch., 1 d. c. over same ch., (to increase), 1 ch., 1 d. c. into next ch. Repeat from * all the way around.

Third Row—Work 1 d. c. over first ch. * 1 ch., 1 d. c. over same ch., to increase 1 ch., 1 d. c. over next ch., 1 ch., 1 d. c over next ch. Repeat from * all around. Your circle should now measure two and one-half inches. If it is too large, work tighter or use a smaller hook. If it is too small, work looser or use a larger hook. Continue to work around and around, increasing often enough to keep the circle flat. (If it draws in on the edge you are not increasing often enough, and if it ruffles you are increasing too often.)

When this circle is large enough to cover the top of the hat-frame's crown, work without increasing for three inches—or until it is long enough to cover the entire crown. Then, in next row, increase in every other stitch and from then on, work around and around, increasing often enough to make the work lie flat on the brim of the wire frame. Make this brim part three rows beyond the edge of the frame (these three rows hang over the edge of the frame, or may be sewed flat onto a white silk lining which goes on under the brim of the wire frame). A wreath of simple flowers trims the hat—or merely a bow of ribbon.

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—Roland Krebs describes various brands of salesmanship practiced in Chicago.

By ROLAND KREBS
For International News Service

CHICAGO, May 3.—Salesmanship of nearly every breed and complexion imaginable is rampant in Chicago. The city may seriously lay claims to being the capital of American salesmen.

Each week develops one with a new wrinkle. The one with the freshest bag of tricks has performed a coup that daily excites breathless admiration from others of his ilk who see him perform downtown.

This salesman is peddling polish for motor car bodies. He spreads his stuff and his polish on Madison street, near the Northwestern Station, which is traveled heavily morning and evening by commuters.

Everyone knows that most suburbanites own or hope to own automobiles. They know, too, that many suburbs have dusty roads when they are not muddy.

The enterprising polish peddler selects the muddiest or dustiest automobile that the passing commuters will be sure to see. Then he polishes part of it—never all of it. There's the trick.

The surprised owner, finding his car gleaming in part like a gaudy circus wagon and dull most all over where there was no polish, either must buy a bottle of the wonderful stuff or drive through the streets like a man wearing a new shoe and an old one.

The polish, whatever it be, does what he says it will. It makes the painted work fairly glitter. It is so lasting that the salesman knocks the hot ashes from countless cigarettes he smokes onto the surface to show that it will not disappear.

There is another salesman—an aged, bearded individual—who offers books. He visits downtown office buildings at least once every three weeks, exhibiting his wonderful bindings, discoursing on the wonders of "a education" and never selling a book. He seems not to care to, his principal mission apparently being to deliver his set speech and then go. That "sales talk" is quite as good as anything heard in the Senate. It goes like this:

"Hey, mister! Wanna buy a swell set of th' classics? Well, now lemme show 'em to you. Only take a minute. You wanta remember that literachure is antiquity's most valuable legacy and the swellest we can bequeath to the future.

"Just a few minutes a day with these wonderful volumes will polish up a feller's diction something grand and, besides, give him a education he can't get in school. Besides, they is all morocco bound, and you can have them for two bucks down and a dollar a week. No?"

The "No?" always is said in keen surprise.

Anyone that cares for knitted ties, with fast colors, that won't wrinkle, etc., etc., can drop into Chicago any time and find venders galore on street corners ready to talk to anyone who'll listen, whether they buy or not.

Beauty Sues Financier's Son

Miss Murial Sharp

NEW YORK, May 3.—In a breach of contract action, nominally involving a payment of $500, but which opens up a prospect of paying that sum monthly for life, Miss Muriel Sharp, residing at the Stewart Inn, Garden City, has brought suit against Clendenin J. Ryan, son of Thomas F. Ryan, the financier.

The money, according to Miss Sharp, was to be used for the maintenance of an apartment in East Fifty-first street for the use of Ryan and his friends. The action became public on a motion of Ryan's counsel for a change of venue from Nassau county to Manhattan.

The plaintiff said the contract was made in February, 1922, and was to continue indefinitely. When Ryan discontinued payments February last she brought suit. Miss Sharp said the contract stipulated that she would cease to reside with her parents, would reserve a living room for the use of the defendant "for receiving the friends and maintaining his books and library and receiving the care and attention of the plaintiff."

The complaint contained quotations from letters that were alleged to have been written by Ryan to Miss Sharpe. In one of the notes Ryan is alleged to have said in connection with the statement that he had been a heavy drinker, and referring to some of his friends:

"All the old cronies and drunken bums I have ever known—men only—but they were, or have been, a disreputable lot in their time."

According to Miss Sharp, Ryan said that it was her companionship only that kept him from drinking.

Last February the plaintiff avers that Ryan informed her that he refused to be further bound by the contract.

In the argument made against the motion for a change of venue, the plaintiff makes an attempt to prove that Ryan's only legal residence is at Floral Park, Nassau county. Part of the affidavit stated that Ryan was represented as saying he had spent $150,000 on his racing stable.

The affidavit also stated that Ryan does not make his home with his wife and four children at No. 969 Park avenue, Manhattan. It is alleged that he has been separated from them for about five years, although neither he nor his wife obtained a divorce.

Decision was reserved.

Child Leaves Mother For Foster Parents

CHICAGO, May 3.—Alice, Beatrice Nuttal, eleven, was awarded to her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nuttal, yesterday afternoon, by Superior Judge Davis. The blood mother, Mrs. Ada Morris, reeled but did not faint when she heard the decision.

Alice took the stand and expressed a preference for the foster parents she said she loved.

"Did they always treat you well?" asked the judge.

"Oh, fine. I always had the best of everything. Mother Nuttal let me help her cook, too. I can cook fine."

"With whom do you wish to go?"

"With Mother Nuttal, of course."

It developed in testimony that the Nuttals had called no medical doctor when the girl was ill.

"Mrs. Nuttal," Judge Davis said, "if the court leaves the girl with you, you must call a physician when she is ill."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE IGGILY AND TIPPY'S MOLASSES

Once upon a time Tippy Tumble's mother sent him to the store for some molasses. She gave him an empty milk bottle in which to bring the molasses home.

"Be careful and don't fall down so you spill the molasses," said Mrs. Bow Wow. You see Tippy's real name was Bow Wow, and he was the newest little Wow. But he was called Tippy Tumble, little brother of Jackie and Peetie Bow because he was always stumbling and falling down. So it was with good reason that Mrs. Bow Wow said:

"Be careful and don't fall down so you spill the molasses, Tippy."

And Tippy Tumble said:

"I'll be very careful, mother!"

Off he started with the empty milk bottle that was soon to be filled with the sweet, sticky stuff, for Mrs. Bow Wow was going to make a cake. Tippy Tumble was skipping along, wondering when he would be old enough to go to school, when, all of a sudden, he stubbed his left paw on a little twig, and—down he fell.

"Ump!" grunted Tippy Tumble.

"Upsie daisy!" cried a jolly little voice beside him, and there was a hoptoad lady just going to the store for a spool of thread. "Are you hurt, Tippy?" she asked.

"Oh, no'm," answered the little puppy dog, politely. "And I'm glad there wasn't anything in the milk bottle, aren't you?"

"Yes, I am," answered the hoptoad lady. "What are you going to get in the bottle, Tippy?"

"Molasses," he answered. And then, having brushed the dirt off his jacket, on he trotted toward the five and six cent molasses store. But bless your roller skates! Tippy had not gone more than three skips and a toddle farther when, all of a sudden, down he fell again.

"Ump!" grunted Tippy Tumble.

"Upsie daisy!" cried a jolly little voice beside him, and he saw a little red ant lady going to the store for a new piano, on account of her old one being worn out.

"Did you hurt yourself, Tippy?" she asked kindly.

"Oh, no'm, thank you," he replied. "And I didn't hurt the molasses, either, for I haven't got it yet."

"Well, you must be very careful when you do get it, Tippy," said the little red ant lady as she crawled away.

Tippy Tumble scrambled to his feet, brushed some more dirt off his jacket and away he ambled toward the nine and ten-cent molasses store. There the milk bottle was filled with the sweet, sticky stuff and Tippy started for home.

But, listen, as the telephone girl says. Tippy never reached home! At least not for a long time and somethin dreadful happened to him. I'll tell you about it.

After a while Mrs. Bow Wow, the dog lady, went to the front gate and looked down the path through the woods along which Tippy should have been trotting. But no Tippy was in sight. Not a sign of him!

"For whom are you looking, Mrs. Bow Wow?" asked Uncle Wiggily, hopping along just then.

"I am looking for Tippy and the molasses," said Mrs. Bow Wow.

"Oh, well, I daresay he stopped to play marbles," spoke the bunny gentleman. "He will be along soon."

But when an hour passed and Tippy had not come home with the molasses Mrs. Bow Wow became very anxious indeed.

"Oh, I'm afraid the Woozie Wolf or the Fuzzy Fox has my dear little Tippy Tumble," barked the lady dog.

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose. "But I'll go look for Tippy in the woods." And Uncle Wiggily did. He hopped this way and that way, but no Tippy could he see. However, all of a sudden, over behind a bush, Uncle Wiggily saw the Bob Cat talking to the Skillery Scallery Alligator.

"Come on!" called the Bob Cat to the 'Gator. "There's a cute little puppy dog boy sitting down over in the woods and we can get him and nibble his ears."

"Quick, Tippy! Jump up!"

"Oh, it must be Tippy Tumble they're talking about!" thought Uncle Wiggily. Quickly he hopped on ahead of the Bob Cat and 'Gator, and there, in the woods, sitting on the ground, Uncle Wiggily saw Tippy, the puppy dog boy.

"Quick, Tippy! Jump up! Why are you sitting there?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "The Bob Cat and 'Gator are coming! Get up!"

"I—I can't!" sobbed Tippy. "I can't get up!"

"Why not?" asked the Bunny.

"'Cause now—'cause I fell an' I spilled the molasses an' I'm sitting in the molasses an' I'm stuck an' I can't get up!" said poor little Tippy Tumble. "That's why! Boo-hoo! hoo!"

"Oh, my!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "But don't be afraid! I'll save you, Tippy!" And with that the bunny pulled and pulled and pulled until he pulled the little puppy up out of the sticky molasses and raced off home with him before the Bob Cat or Alligator reached there. So Tippy was saved and Uncle Wiggily bought more molasses for Mrs. Bow Wow. And if the chocolate cake doesn't jump rope with the sugar bowl and make the knives and forks laugh, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's wireless.

MONSTER WITH A DUCK'S BILL

IN New Jersey have recently been dug up the bones of a most extraordinary monster. It was a reptile, a species of dinosaur which walked on its hind legs and stood thirty feet high. Doubtless when alive it weighed considerable over a ton.

The Duck-Billed Dinosaur In Life
(From Restoration by C. W. Gilmore, U. S. National Museum)

Scientists call it the "duck-billed dinosaur," because it had a beak somewhat resembling that of a duck. The beak was like a pair of huge salad spoons, with which the animal was accustomed to gather the water-weeds on which it fed.

It was an aquatic reptile, living in swampy places and wading about in the waters of shallow lakes. Hence the peculiarity of its build, which was like that of a gigantic kangaroo—the hind legs long and powerful, the tail heavy and massive, and the fore legs remarkably small relatively to the size of the creature.

This dinosaur must have been rather startling to behold, by reason of its monstrous size and great height when walking erect, but it was quite harmless, being wholly vegetarian and unprovided with teeth or claws that could serve as weapons. With teeth for chewing, however, it was well equipped, having about 2,000, arranged after a most curious fashion in batteries, so to speak. As those in use wore out, they were replaced by a fresh rank.

They could not have been worn out very fast by chewing water weeds, and the fact that the animal was provided by nature with so many of them would seem to suggest that the duck-billed dinosaur must have lived a great length of time. To suppose that the lifetime of an individual may have extended through centuries is not to imagine the incredible. We know that crocodiles and alligators live more than 200 years.

This species of dinosaur probably became extinct 6,000,000 years or so ago. It was evidently a numerous species and widely distributed geographically, for its bodies have been found in Alabama, in Delaware, and along the eastern flank of the Rocky Mountains. In Wyoming, not long ago, a specimen was dug up which the rocks had preserved in such wise as to retain an imprint of part of its hide, thus making known the actual texture of the skin that covered its body.

BILL VOTED DOWN

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—After several hours' "hectic debate," the assembly late yesterday voted down a bill by Assemblyman Dozier of Redding that would have repealed the teachers' tenure act, passed several years ago.

The tenure act provides that public school teachers after they have served two years, may not be removed except for definite cause. Dozier challenged the tenure act as "un-American" and socialistic.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

RECEIVING ANTENNA PROTECTIVE DEVICES

New regulations by the National Underwriters Association makes it mandatory that certain protective devices be employed to safeguard against fire caused by lightning.

The regulations governing receiving antennae are not so stringent as for transmitting stations.

The illustration shows a desirable form of antenna protective device which seems to meet all requirements. Heretofore it has been necessary to install a large switch, mounted on the outside of the building with a heavy wire running to an outside ground.

Although this was a very satisfactory arrangement, it had this drawback, that there was always the possibility of an operator forgetting to throw the switch when through receiving. With this device no such possibility as this can arise, for there is no switch to be thrown. Once installed it functions without attention.

They are made of both the vacuum and tube types.

RADIO DEVELOPMENT

By LIEUT JOHN R. IRWIN
U S AIR SERVICE (RESERVE)

VOLTAGE DROP IN THE LINE

Suppose that a direct current generator capable of supplying 115 volts at the outgoing wires of a powerhouse is furnishing current to a distant building for lighting lamps, which require 110 volts. Suppose that the line resistance is 0.1 ohm., and that the lamps require 50 amperes of current. There is then a line drop of 5 volts and the available voltage at the generator is just right to operate the lamps at their rated voltage. Suppose, however, that other apparatus near the lamps, say, the motor of an elevator, is put in operation and that this requires 100 amperes of current. The line drop is then increased by 10 volts, or 15 volts in all, and the voltage available at the distant end of the line has fallen to 100 volts. This is not sufficient to maintain the lamps at full brightness and they will be dimmed perceptibly every time the elevator is operated. To correct this difficulty a new line of lower resistance must replace the old one; that is, the line drop must be decreased so that for the maximum current demand the lamps will not fall below 110 volts.

Another example of the line drop is seen in the dimming of the lights of a trolley car when the car is starting. The resistance of the trolley wire is kept low by using a large cross section of copper, and the track resistance is kept as low as possible by careful bonding at the rail joints. However, a few defective joints raises the track resistance and increases the line drop to such an extent that the necessary lamp voltage cannot be maintained when the car starts.

"Safe at Home" With First One; American League Opener Thrill

SWEETZER TEARS UP GOLF SCORES

American Player Develops a Fit of Temper After Poor Showing

BULLETIN

SANDWICH, England, May 3.—Dr. O. P. Willing of Portland, Ore., and Francis Ouimet of Brookline, Mass., today tied for the Royal St. George's cup with totals of 153. It was announced that the tie probably would be played off tomorrow.

Dr. Willing who holed the field yesterday with 74, came back with a 79 today. Ouimet, who shot 76 yesterday, turned in a card of 77 today.

By ROBERT E. HARLOW
For International News Service

SANDWICH, Eng., May 3.—In fit of temperament, brought on by his indifferent playing, Jesse F. Sweetzer, amateur golf champion of America, today tore up his card for the final 18 holes of the St. George's challenge cup tourney and declined to divulge his score to any one. It was an outburst comparable only with those occasionally indulged in by Bobby Jones, another famous American golfer.

Sweetzer was miles off his game in the present tournament and, try as he might, could not seem to regain his touch, as golfers call it. He had an 81 for 18 holes yesterday, lacking control in and around the greens where his usual accuracy failed him. Just what his total was today can only be imagined.

Not only his accuracy on the greens but the control of his long game deserted him as he attempted to retrieve lost ground. He was in the rough many times, often was short with his irons and altogether showed little of the form that gained him the American amateur title in a great field.

British Course Strange

The present season marks Sweetzer's first experience with English courses, which differ radically from those in America, the greens being faster and high winds a constant handicap. Lack of familiarity with local conditions is believed to have thrown him off stride.

Among the early scores turned in for the 36 hole distance were those of Bernard Darwin, 78-79—157, and Douglas Grand, of St. George's, 85-74—159.

Before the end of the round Sweetzer had company, Cyril Tolley being another notable to pass out of the flights. The former British amateur champion withdrew from the tournament after getting into difficulties on nearly every hole he played today. Tolley had a 79 yesterday.

The low score of early starters was furnished by Francis Ouimet, the American, turning in a 77.

Right on the heels of the leading Americans came Bob Gardner of Chicago, captain of the invading team, with a total of 154, adding a 79 today to his 75 of the first round. Two additional invaders, Rred J. Wright, of Los Angeles, and Max Marston of Philadelphia, posted respective scores of 84-79—163, and 82-82—164.

S. Davidson Herron, of Pittsburgh, who was the American champion in 1919, also had a total of 163, thanks to an 82 yesterday and 81 today, but Harrison Johnson of St. Paul went completely to pieces, getting a 90, which, added to his 83 in the first round, placed him far down in the list with a total of 173.

Fans that turned out in Cleveland to see the Indians and White Sox help open the American league season didn't have to wait long to get one of the greatest thrills of the game—a daring runner pitting his speed and wits against the arms and wits of the opposing team to score. Second Baseman Bill Wambsgans of the Indians was on second in the third inning when Manager Speaker went to bat. Neither team had scored. Speaker laced out a hit and Wamby lit for home. That he beat the throw from the outfield and was safe is apparent in the photo above. He had to hit the dirt, however. The crowd went wild, as the other photo shows. Indians won.

Dempsey's Manager to Sign for Bout Today

CHICAGO, May 3.—Unless Jack Kearns finds something new to argue about, or unless some one else tosses a new subject into the ring, articles calling for a July 4 bout between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., will be signed here today.

Kearns, reported aboard the Twentieth Century Limited and due in Chicago before his usual breakfast time, will reach the hotel where promoters and all other principals to the heavyweight championship bout are awaiting him, about 10 o'clock. The executive session they will hold will be short and sweet, according to present indications, and the signing was expected to be staged about noon.

SULLIVAN RELEASED

PORTLAND, Ore., May 3.—Jim Sullivan, Portland pitcher, has been turned over to Shreveport of the Southern league to comply with the Coast league twenty veteran player limit, effective May 15. He was released with a string attached. President McCarthy has been asked for a ruling on Casey, Beaver third string catcher. If Casey is declared a veteran, by virtue of having been on the Los Angeles payroll for a season, he will be released, as Portland is still one man over the 20 player limit.

The Giants made it seven in a row from the Dodgers by tying the score in the ninth and winning in the eleventh, 7 to 6, in spite of the fact that Vance fanned fifteen, a season's record.

TAGGING ALL BASES

Everett Scott got a gold medal from Secretary Denby for playing 1,000 successive games, and the Yankees a shut out from Walter Johnson, the Senatorial ace turning in a three-hit performance. Score, 3 to 0. Johnson fanned Babe Ruth and Meusel in the sixth after Witt had opened with a triple.

Van Gilder allowed only three hits and Pruett one but the White Sox took advantage of the former's wildness to win over the Browns, 4 to 2. It was the Sox second straight victory.

A wild throw by Bohne in the ninth prevented the Reds from winning on one hit, the Cubs managing to put over the runs necessary to a 2 to 1 win following the misplay. Osborne held the Reds to a single safety, but walked seven men.

HOLDS MAT TITLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis today was still the heavyweight mat champion of the world, following a go in Convention Hall here last night with John Pesek, Nebraska "tiger man," before approximately 15,000 fans.

Lewis won the first fall in one hour and two minutes with a toe hold. After a half hour rest, Lewis put Pesek on the mat for the second fall in exactly two minutes and thirty seconds.

Great Falls Prepares For July Fourth Bout

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 3.—With an official ruling by Attorney General W. D. Rankin, that no obstacle will be placed in the path of the Dempsey-Gibbons Fourth of July bout at Shelby, if the state boxing laws regulations are followed, preparations went forward here today for the arrival of Champion Jack Dempsey, who is expected to pitch his training camp in this city shortly.

Shirley Ford, local banker, announced that the Dempsey contract would stipulate he will do his training in this city. Ford holds in trust $100,000 to be paid the champion when he signs articles, but declared today that the money will not be paid over unless the title holder trains in this city.

Unless the contract between Dempsey and Gibbons specifically states otherwise the champion will be prevented from using his famous "rabbit punch" in the Shelby bout. While the state law does not bar the punch, all boxing club regulations in Montana have prohibited the rabbit, pivot and kidney punches, boxing officials declare today there is strong objection to the rabbit punch.

The state law provides for a rigorous physical examination by participants in boxing matches, and determines the use of six-ounce gloves with only three wraps of tape over gauze bandages on fighters' hands.

The Cards came back to the races and swarming all over Morrison, Kunz and Boehler, ran up a score of 12 to 1 on the Pirates.

Kearns Will Demand Deposit of $100,000

NEW YORK, May 3.—Expressing himself as confident that the Dempsey-Gibbons match will be staged at Shelby, Mont., on July 4, under the auspices of the American Legion, Jack Kearns, the heavyweight champion's manager, left here for Chicago, where he will hold a conference today with Loy Molumby and Eddie Collins, promoters of the proposed bout.

However, before any articles of agreement are signed, Kearns said he will demand that Molumby give him $100,000 as an evidence of good faith. Another condition he would demand, he said, was that the promoters prove to him that they could erect an arena for seating between 40,000 and 50,000 persons.

Petty treason, in ancient English statutes, was a wife's murder of her husband, a servant's murder of his master or an ecclesiastical person's willful slaying of his superior.

Breath Smeller Leads To Big Liquor Cache

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 3.—Tea tasters long have been officially recognized as necessities and justly high salaried. Today they have a rival profession. It is the noble order of breath smellers. Working in Utica, prohibition Agents Smith and Baker gave evidence upon which they obtained a search warrant, Smith testifying as a whiskey taster and Baker as a breath smeller. The word of Smith who drank the whiskey alone was not enough. Corroborated by Baker, who smelled his breath immediately after it, brought the warrant. And the warrant led the two to the establishment of Charles R. Auger, of Utica. They allege they found a quantity of whiskey, gin, wine and 900 bottles of home brew.

AID SUGAR STRIKE

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Los Angeles labor unionists have called for workingmen to assist the housewives of Southern California in their "strike" against the sugar trusts, following the action taken here recently by the Los Angeles central labor council when its 50,000 members voted to support the sugar "strikers."

"We are thoroughly in sympathy with such a 'strike,' declared A. B. Hassell, president of the labor council, "and will do all we can to enlist the aid of organized labor to help the women in their attempt to beat the sugar trust."

CHICAGO, May 3.—The body of a pretty unidentified girl of 22 and that of an unidentified man of 35 were found in the Chicago river. Both appeared to have been in the water for weeks. They were found while police and firemen were searching the river for bodies of three persons reported to have been in an automobile that plunged into the river earlier in the day.

YOUTH ARRESTED

LOS ANGLELES, May 3.—Throwing money away for swimmers to dive for in the plunge led to the detention of Jack White, aged 14, of New Orleans, in the Venice jail When the lad threw more than $5 in silver into the water for the divers to garner, the suspicion of the management was aroused and they called the police. The authorities are holding the boy until they can communicate with New Orleans police to see if he is wanted in the southern city.

COMMENT
That's All

Writing 'Commit' On Dare Bit Of Characterization Last One To Leave Hole Simply Creatures Of Earth

By Gil A. Cowan

TODAY we will present a melange of comment that is written on a dare. A friend of ours in the capital at Sacramento the other day said, "Write about the characters of Second street—that motley group of unemployed you see around the labor agencies." So here goes.

Second street of Sacramento is as cosmopolitan as any street in any city of any nation. In fact, it is likely more so. There is a sprinkling of every nationality, it would seem, including the Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese, Armenians, Greeks, Jews, Germans, Swedes, Poles, Italians, and what not.

The Jews run the second hand stores and pawnshops. They are typical of the tribes of Israel. Some come from the Holy Land, many more from Russia, and the most businesslike from Central Europe.

The Greeks run the restaurants, as usual, with Dalmatian waiters. They are in competition with Italians, Chinese and Japanese and one Frenchman still holds forth with his cafe.

For the most part, however, the Japanese and Chinese are proprietors of small shops in the vicinity of Second street. Some of the orientals are quaint in their customs, but as a class they take to imitation of Americans like fish to water.

The real characters of the street are those itinerant workmen who come in from the lumber camps each winter and spend their money in the cheap picture houses, while away their time playing cards or drinking anything they can obtain.

For instance, there is the little German cook, who evidently has to manufacture his own clothes to fit a form that reminds one of a butter ball. He wears a little round hat and moves with a waddle that must be a joke of the camp at which he works. However, we'll abide with his pancakes and crullers anytime, for he is methodical and it takes that to cook right.

Another strange character passes into an employment agency. He is shriveled and sick looking. Some sort of a foreigner. Likely a flunkey. But no, the employment agency tells you he makes $15 a day when he works. He is a tunnelman on power projects. He is the man who sets the "shots" of dynamite, the last boy to leave the hole. And he is sure. Were he not positive that everything was set right some mucker might run his pick into an unexploded charge and it would be curtains for a crew.

So everything is not as it seems on Second street. The big burly Swede who can swing an ax the live-long day is mortally afraid of traffic, praying to the gods Woden and Thor that his life be spared.

These men of the camps do not fit well into the society of the city. They know not how to act. So long it has been their fate to remain in the backwoods that they know nothing of the latest jazz craze. They have a style all their own which changes little.

To them the most prized possession in the world is their blanket roll. And would the brother lend them a match for a smoke? They get more pleasure out of one pipeful of tobacco than the business man does out of his daily dozen of cigars.

There are a number of dope fiends among their number, just as there are in any given quarter of society. There are very few dishonest men, however, to be found on Second street. They do not belong there. It is true this class is uncouth. It feels no restraint. Yet the corner policeman is unnecessary. Only in case of a drunken brawl is the long arm of the law going to intervene.

And in this flotsam and jetsam of mortals you will find human nature in chameleon form. Some are sons of the rich. Some have been through universities, but they do not boast of it. Some have held high position, but for the most part they are simply creatures of the earth, working out their own problems and existing only because there is a tomorrow and its sunshine.

Plan Court Action To Test Settlements

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Preparations have been made here for court action to test the power of the state highway commission to make "cash settlements" with contractors in securing the termination of road contracts entered into by the old highway board last December. Road contracts totaling nearly $3,000,000 are involved in the action.

Paving the way for a suit to determine the commission's powers relative to the cancellation of work ordered by the preceding board, State Controller Ray L. Riley announced that he would hold up payment on a "cash settlement" claim presented by the highway board in favor of the George G. Pollock Construction company of this city. The claim aggregates $125,000, covering work already done on the contract.

REPORTS THEFT

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Entering the general merchandise store of A. Brownstein, Huntington Park, through a rear door, burglars stole men's silk socks and women's silk stockings valued at approximately $50, according to Brownstein's report to the sheriff's office here.

JULIA ROBINSON TO SING SUNDAY

Mayor's Daughter to Appear In Discovery Concert At Grauman's

The Sunday morning "discovery" concert at Grauman's Million Dollar Theatre, in Los Angeles, holds attractive interest for Glendale people, because of the appearance of Miss Julia Robinson, daughter of Mayor Spencer Robinson. Miss Robinson's singing on Sunday morning is being widely advertised by Mr. Grauman as the star attraction of the concert.

Miss Robinson has most promising talent, doubtless inheriting her musical ambitions and marked talents from Henrietta Sontag, famous singer, from whom she is a direct descendant. Training abroad and an operatic career are Miss Robinson's ambitions.

For the Sunday concert she has chosen "Il Est Doux, Il Est Bon," the aria from Massennet's opera, "Herodiade," and in a duet with Henri LaBonte, tenor, she will be heard in the dramatic number, "Oh, Kindly Heavens," from the first act of "Madame Butterfly."
